Quoting in eHarvest®

- Generate detailed, unit-based policy estimates without an existing grower or prospect set up in eHarvest! The use of simple drop-downs and prompts will produce estimates that aid your growers in making informed risk management decisions.
- Quote your entire book of business by selecting any combination of plans, options and/or crops

*Check the actuarials for applicable counties/states.

Always call before destroying or replanting a crop.

The grower must obtain consent from Hudson Crop in advance of replanting the insured crop. Failure to obtain consent before replanting or destroying the crop will result in no replanting payment, and it may affect the insurability and/or the ability to indemnify the initially planted crop.

New Crop Year Livestock Cancellation/Transfer Deadline

6/30 is a hard deadline for any cancellations or transfers for the new crop year. No policies can be cancelled or transferred if not signed by 6/30, prior to the start of the RY.

Friendly Reminders:

Don't forget to attach your spring Acreage Report documents to the eHarvest policy. This helps us review the information to ensure clean bills are sent to the growers.

Insureds must file their AD 1026 form at the FSA using the same entity and Tax ID Number (TIN) they used for crop insurance to qualify for premium subsidy.

Hudson Makes Transferring Business Easy...

Transferring business is likely one of the hardest things an agent faces during an already stressful sales season, which is why we look for ways to ease the load for our agents. We take our partnership seriously and are dedicated to making the often overwhelming transfer process stress free. Contact your Crop Insurance Specialist or Sales Team Member to inquire about our accommodating transfer processes in place. They are happy to assist!

* Check the actuarials for applicable counties/states.

We are...

Built on a Solid Foundation

Our Vision

To be the most trusted agricultural risk management partner.

Our Core Strategies

Hudson Crop exists and operates to provide its business partners and associates with sustainable growth and profitability by operating with efficiency, creativity, and fiscal responsibility while providing our customers, the agent, with superior customer service, improved efficiencies and accuracy through the continuous development of technology, procedures and training.

Our Mission

To be the leading crop insurance provider for agents and agricultural producers by offering the most innovative portfolio of private products and technologies, by delivering outstanding customer service and support and by creating long-term profitability for ourselves and our risk management colleagues.

Hudson Crop will achieve sustainable growth and profitability by:

- Diversifying our portfolio so we can withstand regional losses while realizing an overall gain
- Ensuring financial stability while creating profitability for ourselves and our agents
- Evaluating our portfolio on a continuous basis with a bottom line focus
- Reviewing and controlling operating expenses
- Developing a properly rated hail and private product line designed to address risk gaps found in federally subsidized programs
- Embracing agent-focused strategies as part of our unique culture
- Actively developing, investing and fostering growth in our employees to increase satisfaction and productivity
- Continuing to support investments in technology and innovation
- Focusing on integrity as a core business component – providing the ability to meet the increased demand for business accountability and ethical consumption
- Providing education and training to agents and employees so they are better able to perform their jobs and fulfill their responsibilities to our customers and our company
